Driving Lessons

Across the table sat a short, dark-eyed young man with ruddy face and smooth black hair. Listening to his rather deep voice made it hard to realize he was only 19 years old.

He was spouting politics like a veteran. His self-assured comment showed respect for the little nuances of human byplay, intrigue and strategy that go into political choices. He dwelt on men's prejudices, on the real wrongs and fancied slights that trouble them, on the bigger forces at work in party combat.

The broad setting was a southern state Republican nominating convention. Heedless of slim GOP chances in the fall, the lad had helped a near dark horse enter a key race, and had dashed around to whip up support just before the big event. When someone asked who the candidate's floor manager was, a knowing finger pointed straight at the 19-year-old.

But he wasn't the only youngster on the scene. They were all over the place. Approaching another of these, a reporter asked: "Who's directing the front runner's floor campaign?" Said the young man: "I guess I am."

None of this meant, of course, that the older party politicians were abdication position and influence. In their hotel rooms, they tugged on what they hoped were the important lines.

Yet nobody denied that without the first efforts of the 19-year-old, and his relatively young superior, the dark horse would not have won—as he did. It was also a fact that the front runner, whatever his crucial handicaps in the final test, got major benefit from the youthful energy expended in his behalf.

You could not watch these youngsters running about, trying to corral delegates' votes, sticking their forefingers in their elders' chests, without being heartened. For there is considerable evidence, from their participation in major campaigns, from their earnest struggling in their own party organizations, that youthful Americans are showing mounting interest in the political process.

These kids often were no mere spear-carriers. They were in the thick of it. And with some inevitable exceptions, they knew as much about what was going on as did their older counterparts.

The youngsters think of themselves as juniors practicing to be seniors—in real field trials. They expect to take over party management in the years just ahead. Sooner or later they will. And it's a good sign for the country that in so many places they are developing the interest and the skill to do just that.

Candy Sales Rise Regardless Of Attempts To Lose Weight

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might not know unless he opened his mail:

The people who make candy say that in spite of our calorie-conscious sale of candy has risen from 7 pounds a year per person in the last century to 17 pounds now.

Oh, yes. All put together it amounts to call sweets except girls counted) to 3 billion pounds of tasty confections last year for which Americans paid nearly $12 billion.

How long has it been since you moved from where you lived? I have an item that says the average tenant moves every four years. And the year before I had an item that said he moved every five years. I must be dull. I have lived in the same place for 14 years and would remain. But, looking back from the age of 50, I can count at least 15 places I lived in. The last one has air-conditioning.

Which brings up the wisecrack of the week: "An embrace," cooed mumsong singer Jeanette Thomas, "is a roundabout way of expressing affection."

East Germany's Refugees Seek to Free Homelands

By PETER EDSON
Written For NEA

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Two private citizens of Germany have come to Washington on a strange, unofficial mission which they say has nothing to do with the latest Berlin crisis stirred up by Russia's Nikita Khrushchev. The two visitors are looking principally for sympathy and understanding of a World War II aftermath now almost completely forgotten in America.

It concerns the 12 million people who, in the last 16 years, have fled or have been driven by Communism from the eastern provinces of prewar Germany to the freedom of the western Federal Republic of Germany.

Their two emissaries to this country—strapping big Teutons who speak almost no English—are Elbert Otto, president of the Association of East Prussians, and Wilhelm Hoffman, president of the Association of Pomeranians. The northern part of East Prussia is now occupied by Russia, the southern part by Poland, Pomerania, which straddles the lower Oder river where it flows into the Baltic Sea, is occupied by Poland.

All Germans from these two provinces and from Silesia, Saxony, Thuringia, Brandenburg and Mecklenburg who have fled to freedom in western Germany are now organized into the Refugee Party. Next to organized labor, the refugees are Germany's second largest pressure group. They represent about 20 per cent of the total West German population. They have 60 seats in the 480-member Bundstag, or parliament.

But these people do not like to be called refugees. They prefer to be called expellees. They emphasize that they were driven from their former homes by the Communists. They are obsessed by one desire: They want to go home.

Under present conditions they have about as much chance of going back to their old homes as a snowball has of surviving in July sun. But it is significant to note that while the Communists are trying to cut off the 16 to 17 million people remaining in East Germany to make a separate state, there are now 12 million East Germans in West Germany, dedicated to reunification of all Germans in a single anti-Communist nation.

The Expellees—These former East Germans have now found jobs in prosperous, booming West Germany. They have made new homes. They are fully accepted and integrated as citizens of the German Federal Republic. But when it is suggested that the expellees are getting older and that their children will grow up without the burning desire to go back to their ancestral homelands, there is emphatic protest.

"Look at the Jewish people," says Herr Hoffman. "The Jews were wanderers on the face of the earth for 2,000 years. Yet their desire to return to Palestine never faltered, and they finally succeeded."

"Look at the Poles," says Herr Otto. "Poland has been oppressed by Russia for 150 years. They are under Communist domination now, but the desire to be free is strong in them."

The Position Of The Communist Polish government, of course, is that the former eastern German lands now have been completely integrated into Poland and given to Poles who were forced to move from what used to be eastern Poland by the Russians. Any attempt to reverse these forced migrations would only cause new calamities and dislocations. But the German expellees try to influence the Poles to seek restoration of their old borders. They seek support for this in Britain and in France, too, but with no more luck than they have encountered in America.

Nobody in government wants to see them because they have no official, diplomatic standing. The two German visitors in Washington have had to content themselves with seeing people like retired Admiral Arthur W. Radford, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and a few congressmen.

The Expellees Have No Underground organization of their own. They are seeking to enter West Germany. But they still stream across the border 30,000 a month or more. There is no free road urging the Germans left behind the Iron curtain to revolt. Food packages are sent in when there are shortages.

They have no military organization of their own and they do not advocate restoration of their homelands by war with somebody else doing the fighting. The Refugee Party charter drawn up in 1950 merely pledges the members to seek restoration of their homelands by peaceful means. It is a force to remember.

Caring for Child Diabetic Can Be Demanding Task

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D., reduction.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Writes a registered nurse who is the mother of a child diabetic: "Refrain from saying 'diabetes today' is just about the simplest and easiest of chronic disturbances to control, maybe you ought to take a newly discovered diabetic child into your home for a few months and then write another article."

"The day begins at 7 a.m. with examination of a specimen and an insulin shot," she says. "Then breakfast of what he's supposed to eat, not what he wants to eat. Meals at the school cafeteria are out. Not nearly enough protein and too much starch."

"Social activities with refreshments are another problem. Who wants to explain all the time? Then, if he gets shaky in the middle of a game from too much insulin or too little—the others become angry if he quits."

"Everything has to be considered when the insulin dose is figured. Activity, emotional upsets, a cold, an upset stomach. The rate of normal growth (he was 8 years old at the onset. Now he's 11).

"If you had ever lived with a child diabetic—or even an adult with a brittle diabetes—you could not possibly have stated that the control of diabetes is simple and easy."

I plead guilty with an explanation. Caring for the child diabetic or for the adult with a "brittle" diabetes is indeed a difficult and treacherous job. As my correspondent says, "Just about everything throws them off" and "they can go from diabetic coma to insulin shock" in a matter of a few hours or even minutes.

But what I was referring to—and I should have been more specific—was the vast majority of adult diabetics of whom there may be as many as two million in the United States and Canada at this writing.

Of this veritable army, perhaps the largest group is composed of adults who require little more than prescription of a mixed low-calorie diet to accomplish weight

Getting Older Each Year?

You Can Grow 'Younger'

You're getting younger every year instead of older if:

● You have more friends right now than you had five years ago.

● You are busy learning some new skill or acquiring knowledge in a new field.

● You rarely think about your age or let it handicap you in the things you want to do.

● You are keeping up with the latest fashions and make a determined effort to look your best.

● You are more sympathetic than critical in your attitudes toward the younger generation.

● You are still ready to take a chance, try something new and improve on your old ways of doing things.

● You are more interested in the present and the future than in the past, and your talk reflects that attitude.

● You like to go places and get away from home whenever you have a chance.

● You laugh easily and still have the ability to make other people laugh with you.

● You figure you are old enough to be yourself and to live your life according to your own ideas of what is important and what is unimportant.

● You often see ways in which you can be helpful to others and never turn your back on an opportunity for doing something for someone else.

● You take time to enjoy the good things of life and dwell as little as possible on the unpleasantness that comes your way.

● You keep making plans for the future, hopefully and enthusiastically.

You are getting younger every year because you are cultivating the attitudes and living patterns that keep a person from growing old.

Bethel was an old town when, in 1840, the Methodists and Congregationalists living a few miles east and northeast of Bethel built a church they called "The Concord Church" around which grew the town of Concord. At a business meeting when the building was completed it was voted that they should use the Methodist order of worship, but at the first church service the Congregationalists predominated and they used their order of worship.

In 1859 the Congregationalists built a church in the new town of Chapin, but when their numbers had dwindled to two or three families they sold it and it is now part of the Edward Middendorf home.

Local Musicians Form Hammond Organ Society

Organ enthusiasts from Jacksonville and surrounding area gathered at the YMCA Thursday evening to complete the chartering of the Hammond Organ Society for this community. There were 25 present.

The following officers were chosen to serve for the coming year: Burton Schlie, president; Lyndall Symonds, vice president; Hubert Rodgers, secretary and treasurer.

A committee to draw up a constitution for the society consists of Darlene Schwagmeyer of Chapin as chairman, Lucille Stice, Grace Fussner and Willard Prewitt from Jacksonville, Irene Baker of Chapin and Robert Ginter from Beardsburg.

Grace Fussner and Lucille Stice will serve on the publicity committee.

Meetings are to be held on the 3rd Thursday of each month. There will be no meeting in August but when September 21st rolls around the YMCA will again resound with the music of the Hammond Organ Society.

Refreshments were served along with musical selections on the organ by the guests.

Bluffs WSCS To Have August Family Picnic

BLUFFS—The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Bluffs Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Grady with Mrs. M. D. Goldsborough and Mrs. Margaret Watson assisting.

Twelve members answered roll call with a Bible verse with "word."

Devotions were led by Mrs. Orville Gathard assisted by Mrs. Goldsborough.

The lesson "God's Word and Our Words" was presented by Mrs. Floyd Hart assisted by Mrs. Guss.

Andres, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. John Pine. An interesting discussion followed the presentation.

Mrs. Watson presided at the business session. Reports were given by the secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Pine, the treasurer, presented the budget for the coming year which was accepted and also the recommendations of the ways and means committee.

The supply askings were presented by Mrs. Jane Woodson and these were accepted.

Mrs. Hart, program chairman, has called a meeting of the program committee for Thursday, July 20, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. M. D. Goldsborough.

Mrs. Andres announced that the Christmas card samples are on hand and will be presented at a later meeting.

Mrs. Andres accepted the class leadership for the study class on "The Meaning of Suffering" which will be presented at a later date.

Plans were discussed for the August family picnic, the meeting to be at 3:30 p.m. followed by a family potluck supper. The society accepted the invitation of Mrs. Paul Smith to meet at her home on August 10 for the picnic.

Mrs. Watson, Mrs. Goldsborough, Mrs. Andres and Mrs. Woodson presented highlights of the training school for officers of the society which they had attended that morning in Jacksonville.

The society voted to have their "Coming of Age Party" at the October meeting, further plans to be announced later.

The meeting closed with the Spiritual though for the Day by Mrs. Goldsborough followed by the praying of "The Lord's Prayer."

The hostesses served delicious refreshments during the social hour.

Simmering a chicken to use cold in sandwiches or salads? Strain the stock and "up" its flavor by adding a little monosodium glutamate; this protein derivative has no flavor of its own, but it does wonders in pointing up chicken flavor. Chinese cooks use monosodium glutamate a great deal in making the base for their egg-drop and wonton soups.

Using whatever's in the cupboard as a glaze for baked ham? Honey, current jelly melted with a little lemon or orange juice, baby-food apricots mixed with light brown sugar are all good.

Q—The bidding has been:
North 1 ♠ East 2 ♠ South 2 ♠ West 2 ♠
You, South, hold:
AK43 ♠ 2 ♠ AKQ75 ♠ AJ543 ♠
What do you do?

A—Pass. You have a mere eleven high card points and your singleton heart is a danger signal.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding two hearts your partner has jumped to three hearts. What do you do in this case?

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

CAN'T DO ANYTHING ABOUT A FREAK

By OSWALD JACOBY

This week's article will discuss freak hands. There is no scientific way to bid most of them. Scientific bidding is based on averages and there just aren't enough freak hands to establish average results.

Today's hand was sent me by Mrs. Marcella Mucci of Waynesburg, Pa.

The bidding was what took place when her group held the hand. West did not double the ace of spades on the table and a spade continuation resulted in a three trick set which just cancelled out South's 150 honors.

It is interesting to speculate on what would have happened if West had opened his singleton trump

And South had run off seven or eight hearts. East and West might just have thrown away enough spades to give South his contract.

As for the bidding of the hand I can't really criticize any bid, but some player with the South cards might have doubled the five-spade bid.

The double looks easy enough now. We are looking at all the hands, but as stated in the first paragraph anyone's guess is likely to be good with these unusual distributions.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"
The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

NEW YORK (AP)—American steel companies continue to open up new sources of foreign iron ore, even as they wait in the slow days of July for the expected pick-up in production in August or September.

At the same time, ore production dwindles in the once dominant American iron mines.

U.S. Steel has just shipped its first trial cargo of Quebec ore for the Fairless Works near Philadelphia. It is testing out its harbor loading machinery at Port Carter, Quebec, designed to handle 6,000 tons an hour. The ore comes 200 miles from the north by a train on a specially built line.

If the tests prove out, the harbor on the St. Lawrence will be completed to handle the largest ore carriers now afloat. It will be 50 feet deep, 2,500 feet long and 450 feet wide. Ore will be stockpiled there in the summer for loading when the rail line may be spoorbound.

Ore also is coming in from Labrador mines developed in recent years as the rich ores of the Lake Superior district began to run out. The Canadian ore helps feed the hungry steel mills of the Midwest as well as those along the West Coast.

In the last three years the greatest volume of foreign ore has come from Venezuela where a mountain of almost solid iron ore is being mined. Much of this ore goes to East Coast steel mills but some is sent to the mills around Birmingham, Ala.

The American Iron & Steel Institute reports the United States imported 38,774,625 net tons in 1960. This compared with 1.3 million tons in 1945.

In 1960 Venezuela sent 16.3 million tons here, Canada 11.8 million tons, Chile 4.4 million, Peru 3 million, Brazil 1.6 million, Liberia 1 million, along with smaller amounts from Mexico, British West Africa and Sweden.

Liberia is stepping up iron ore production fast, with an eye on the growing Western European market as well as the U.S. one.

In the faded American iron country at the head of the Great Lakes, the story is different. High grade ores there are petering out. In 1948 shipments from the Mesabi Iron Range were 69 million tons. In 1959 shipments were cut to 36 million tons, partly because of a strike. In 1960 the figure rose to 55 million tons, largely because the steel mills were working at capacity the first part of the year in anticipation of a strike.

Shipments now include 11 million tons or more of taconite, processed at considerable cost from low grade ore.

Ray Nolan, state lands and minerals director for Minnesota, explains that "because the blast furnace operators are demanding a much higher grade of iron ore, it is necessary now for us to concentrate iron ore which we used to ship as mined."

Among other American steel companies investing in and developing iron ore sources in Canada are Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, National Armco, Wheeling, Inland Steel and Hanna Ore Mining Co. The St. Lawrence Seaway has made Midwest American markets more accessible to Canadian ore.

But while imports have been on the rise, American iron companies have been idle. Upgrading their ores by processes called Beneficiation, present day concentrates are higher in iron content than the regular ore shipped for years from the rich Mesabi range.

Steelmen say these blue ribbon concentrates allow five blast furnaces to produce now as much as six and a half used to turn out. Thus, even if they hadn't built a single new blast furnace, steelmakers could have increased their annual capacity by more than 25 million tons a year through Beneficiation.

And, taking the risks of foreign turmoil into account, the Lake Superior district doubtless will remain the most important single source of iron ore for the American steel industry.

Ashland Hosts Vacation Guests

ASHLAND—Mrs. Bernice Hayes, and the Misses Sylvia Six and Anna Bore Jokiach, of this city, and Maureen Moore of Virginia, left Wednesday morning for a ten days vacation in Arizona, and other interesting points in the West.

ASHLAND RESTRICTS PLANTING ON ITS VILLAGE PROPERTY

ASHLAND—The Village Board met in regular session Thursday night, with all members being present except one.

A motion was made and seconded to prohibit the setting out of any tree or shrubs on the outside of the sidewalk and on Village property without supervision or being authorized by the park superintendent of the village.

A motion was made and seconded that the village charge $15 for the privilege of each installation to every person hooking into the village sewers. This will be effective immediately.

A motion was also made and seconded that the village of Ashland recommend to the city of Beardstown as a site for a proposed Mental Health Clinic.

Other business of the board included the hiring of P. M. Boner as the nightwatchman, to replace Albert Nail.

Picnic July 18
The high school class of the Baptist church will have a picnic at New Salem park near Petersburg, Tuesday, July 18, at 6:30 p.m.

The group will meet at the Neal Coyle home and leave at 6 for the park. All class members should plan to go.

Miss Lorena Bailey entertained at a buncio party at her home Thursday night. High score prize was won by Edith Caswell; high buncio by Sarah Reside; low by Grace Dalton, and traveling by Helen Page.

Others present were: Daisy Thompson, Helen Clark, Bessie Willis, Almada Watkins, Ethel Spicer, Rose Hinds, Thessel Jones, Grace Kendall and Lena Wyatt.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Martha Circle of the Methodist church will meet Wednesday, July 19th, at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. James Boosinger. Mrs. Granville Smith and Miss Kate Gilbert are assisting hostesses.

The leader for the afternoon will be Mrs. Walter Dean, and nite boxes are due at this meeting. Please note the change in meeting place for July.

Records Topple As U.S. Men, Russian Women Win Weekend Track Meet

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MOSCOW (AP)—The Russians outsmarted themselves when they agreed to keep separate men's and women's scores in the weekend track meet against the United States. Today they were trying to explain that, after all, it's the grand total of victories that counts.

The American men whipped the Soviet athletes, 134 in events and 124-111 in score based on a 5-2-1 scale in the third of their series of clashes that ended Sunday in a miserable rain. The Soviet women won 68-39.

Now the Americans head for Stuttgart and a meet with East Germany Tuesday and Wednesday.

Valery Brunel, the wonderful Soviet teenager, smashed the world high jump record by clearing 7 feet, 4 inches under the bar.

Arnold Palmer Out To Take PGA Crown

NEW YORK (AP)—Arnold Palmer, back home again after fighting off rain, wind and a cankerous course to capture the British Open golf championship, says he's determined to win the National PGA title in Chicago later this month.

"I want to win it more than ever now," Palmer said during a brief stopover Sunday en route to his home in Latrobe, Pa. "It's the only major one I haven't won, you know."

The 31-year-old ace of American golfers won his first British Open in his second try, firing rounds of 69 and 72 on the 36-hole windup at Birkdale, England, Saturday for a winning 72-hole total of 284. He won by a stroke from Dai Rees of Wales after having trailed Australia's Kel Nagle by a stroke in the 1960 championship—his first attempt.

Since Palmer already has won the U.S. Open in 1960 and the Masters in 1958 and 1960, the PGA championship is the one major title he needs to complete the cycle.

The PGA is the next tournament for Arnold and he said he'll spend a full week getting ready for its start, July 27, at Chicago's Olympia Fields Country Club.

Arriving at Idlewild Airport, Palmer said the British Open title "was one of the hardest championships I ever won—boy, it was tough."

TY COBB SLIGHTLY IMPROVED SUNDAY

ATLANTA (AP)—Former baseball star Ty Cobb, 74, appeared slightly improved at Emory University hospital, where he is being treated for diabetes. A spokesman described his condition as fair and said he was resting fairly comfortably.

The Georgia Peach was reported in poor condition Saturday with frequent lapses into unconsciousness.

IMPROVING—(NEA) Before joining the Detroit Tigers, Norm Cash had hit only four home runs in the major leagues.

Umpire Dascoli May Quit At End Of Season

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank Dascoli, regarded by many as the finest umpire in the National League, may quit after this season because of dissatisfaction with the way umpires are treated by their bosses.

Dascoli neither denies nor confirms it, but The Associated Press has learned he recently told Pittsburgh baseball announced Bob Prince this will definitely be his last year.

Pittsburgh baseball writer Les Biederman says several players have told him the same story.

The story is that Dascoli is discouraged because he feels umpires have not been getting proper backing from the league office in their run-ins with players and managers.

Dascoli, approached by a newspaper after Sunday's Pittsburgh-Los Angeles game, said:

"I'd like to give you the story, but right now I'm not in a position to make a statement. If we happened to be here the day the season ends, I'll be happy to talk to you."

Significantly, Dascoli did not deny the story, as he presumably would if his remarks had been misunderstood. Nor did he say he had changed his mind since the Pittsburgh interview.

Dascoli, 45, joined the National League staff in the middle of the 1948 season, only about two years after becoming a professional umpire. He has worked in three World Series.

Dascoli, who believes umpires are invested with infallibility on the field, executes his job vigorously and in a severe manner. But although no one has even won an argument with him, players and managers generally consider him one of the best in his business—particularly at calling balls and strikes.

Detroit Beats A's Twice; Moves Into AL Lead By A Half-Game

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
DETROIT flexed its muscles Sunday with six home runs to back up complete games by Don Mossi and Phil Regan and regained the American League lead from New York by a half-game and one percentage point.

Ricky Colavito hit two and Norm Cash, Al Kaline, Dick McAuliffe and Mossi one each in an 11-1 and 8-3 sweep over the Kansas City A's.

Mickey Mantle's 32nd home run and ninth-inning double led the New York Yankees to a 2-1 victory over Baltimore. Bud Daley's four-hitter kept the Yanks rolling.

Chuck Essegian's two homers helped Cleveland dump Minnesota in the first game 7-3 but Lenay Green, who had eight hits in 11 trips during the afternoon, slammed a triple, double and three singles in the Twins' 12-5 triumph in the second game.

After Los Angeles rapped out 13 hits, including three-run homers by Steve Bello and Ken Hunt in an 11-2 first game romp over Washington, the Angels lost the second 4-3 in the 10th on a pair of walks by Ryne Duren and a bad throw by catcher Del Rice.

Boston salvaged a split with Chicago when the Red Sox broke through with two runs in the 12th inning for a 5-3 victory in the second game after the White Sox took the first 4-3 on Minnie Minoso's two-run single in the ninth.

Cincinnati's National League lead was cut to five games when the Chicago Cubs beat the Reds 4-2 on George Altman's homer and second-place Los Angeles rallied to top Pittsburgh 12-11 on Johnny Roseboro's 10th-inning triple. Sam Jones, making his first start since June 13, pitched San Francisco to a 7-3 decision over Philadelphia and Milwaukee bombed St. Louis 9-1 with two homers by Joe Adcock and one by Lee Maye.

Mossi's homer in the first game at Detroit was his first of the year as he helped himself to victory No. 10 with a five-hitter. All Detroit runs in the second came on homers. Colavito's 23rd and 24th drove in five. Cash hit his 25th with a man on, his first in 17 games.

Daley might have had a shut-out in Baltimore in a rain-rinced game but for some shoddy play that let two fly balls fall in for hits in the sixth inning when the Orioles scored their run. Mantle's homer came off Steve Barber, who also was the victim of Mantle's game-winning double in the ninth, following a double by Tony Kubek.

LIKES VIKING DEFENDERS

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Harry Gilmer, defensive coach of the new Minnesota Vikings, thinks the team's secondary will be better than some of the established quartets in the National Football League.

The Vikings, in their first season, will have rookie Ed Sharrockman of the University of Pittsburgh; sophomores Dick Pesonen (from Green Bay) and Dick Mostard (from Cleveland) and five-year veteran Charlie Sumner (from Chicago Bears).

LINES UP THREE PROS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The new Dorland Country Club being built near Miami's International Airport has signed three golf professionals as representatives of the course. They are Jay Hebert, George Bayer and Bill Collins.

The first tournament, a $50,000 open invitational, is set for next March 21-25. A $5,000 pro-amateur will be part of the tournament.

WHAT CAR?

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Steve Bilko of the Los Angeles Angels was returning here on a train after a game in Toronto, during his days with the Rochester Red Wings of the International baseball league.

As the train neared the American border at Niagara Falls, the conductor asked Bilko the routine question, "Place of birth, please?" Steve replied, "Lower eight."

Rockford Girl Wins Two Tennis Championships

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—Ann Kerwein of Rockford won two championships Sunday in the women's division of the 36th annual State Junior Tennis Tournament in Peoria.

Miss Kerwein, who is 14, won the 15-year-old girls' singles division with a 6-1, 6-8 defeat of Judy Arndt of East Moline-Rock Island. Then she moved into the 18-year-old junior women's division and downed Gay Mueller of Granite City 6-0, 6-0 to make it a two trophy day.

Jim Sheehan of Chicago won the junior men's singles title by defeating Jerry Garver of Decatur, 6-6, 6-1.

"Pug" Schoen of Chicago claimed the boys' singles championship with a 6-3, 5-7, 6-1 victory over Dan Wiske of Rockford.

In the junior men's doubles championship match, Wilson Burge of Danville and Dave Moss of Granite City beat Garver and Mike Nolan, both of Decatur, 6-4, 6-0.

In the junior women's doubles division, Miss Mueller and Kathy Barth of Lake Forest nosed out Lois Dikler and Diane Hamm, both of Decatur, 6-3, 6-4.

Former U. Of I. Basketball Star Killed In Wreck

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Funeral services are scheduled in Elgin Wednesday for Don Sunderlage, captain of the University of Illinois basketball team in 1951, and his wife, Mary.

The Sunderlages were killed Saturday night in a two-car collision near Lake Geneva, Wis. Five others, including William Chumbley, 23, of Russell, were injured.

Sunderlage, 31, was graduated from the University a few months after his 1951 team won the national championship. He had been working in an Elgin insurance firm and was president of the university's alumni group in Chicago.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Min Sunderlage, and a sister, Mrs. Edward J. Geister, both of Elgin.

Mrs. Sunderlage, 27, was graduated from the University of Arizona in 1956 and prior to her marriage taught school in Elgin. She is survived by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Newby, and a brother, Robert Todd Newby, all of Elgin.

The Sunderlages, who lived in West Dundee, Ill., had a 18-month-old son, Steven Alfred.

Chicago Cubs Beat Reds 4-2; Cincinnati Loses Full Game Of NL Lead

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's season-long trouble with the Chicago Cubs cost the Reds a full game of their National League lead Sunday when they bowed to the Cubs 4-2 while the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers were outslugging Pittsburgh 12-11 in 10 innings.

The Reds still lead the Dodgers by five games despite their problems with the Cubs, who have won 10 out of 16 from Manager Freddie Hutchinson's crew.

The Reds main worry is George Altman. The Cub outfielder became the league's player of the month for June largely through a nine-hit series against Cincinnati.

He is well on his way to repeating in July with Cincy pitching providing the impetus. Altman, hitting .382 against Cincinnati with six of his 16 homers against the league leaders, beat them Sunday 4-2 with a tie-breaking homer in the sixth inning.

Bob Anderson's no-hit pitching for 3 2-3 innings saved a fifth victory for Dick Ellsworth at the expense of rookie Ken Hunt.

Los Angeles gained a full game on the Reds but they did it the hard way, blowing an early lead and finally beating Pittsburgh 12-11 on Johnny Roseboro's 10th-inning triple. Roseboro's ninth-inning homer had helped the Dodgers tie it up despite five home runs by the Pirates. Dick Mazeroski hit two and Dick Stuart, Roberto Clemente and Don Hoak each hit one.

San Francisco, making a belated move despite the All-Star break, thumped the Phillies 7-3 with two homers by Willie Mays and one by Matty Alou. Sam Jones, making his first start since June 13, was the winner over Jim Owens with relief help from Stu Miller. The victory moved the Giants into third place.

Joe Adcock hit two homers and Lee Maye added another in Milwaukee's 9-1 romp over St. Louis whose only score was a pinch homer by Carl Warwick. Bob Hendley, rookie lefty, won with aid from Don Nottebart.

In the American League, Detroit regained first by half a game and one percentage point by whipping Kansas City 11-1 and 8-3 despite New York's 2-1 victory over Baltimore. Cleveland beat Minnesota 7-5 and then lost to the Twins 12-5. Los Angeles blasted Washington 11-2 and then lost 4-3 in 8 innings. Chicago edged Boston 4-3 but the Red Sox took the second 5-3 in 12 innings.

Anderson took over from Ellsworth in the Reds-Cubs game with two on base in the sixth. He struck out Jerry Lynch, the Reds' top pinch-hitter, and made Don Glasingame fly out.

STOUT HURLING

CROSS RIVER, N. Y. (AP)—One reason John Jay high school won all 17 of its baseball games is that its pitching staff allowed only 12 earned runs.

Scott Kaufman gave up five runs in nine wins, John Thibodeau four in five, Richie Duffy three in three. Thibodeau, who also played outfield, led the team in batting with a .392 average.

'Liberty Bell' To Carry Flier

sea, will pass close enough to cause postponement of the launch, however.

The flight will be mankind's third trip into space in preparation for true space travel.

The first man to reach the threshold of the heavens was Soviet Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin, who orbited the earth for 108 minutes at a maximum altitude of 187 miles on April 12.

Gagarin was followed into space by U.S. Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., on May 5. Shepard's suborbital trip and the one scheduled Tuesday will be almost identical.

At the time of launch some 75 scientists and technicians will be packed into the control blockhouse about 50 yards from the 78,000-pound-thrust Redstone missile with its two-ton space capsule.

None will have a more exacting job than Dr. Kurt Debus, director, Launch Operations Directorate, Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

Despite the tons of electronic equipment to detect anything wrong, there will be eight seconds during which Debus' German-born rocket expert will simply look at the flames billowing from the Redstone's engines and make up his mind whether all is going well.

If Debus detects any signs of thrust decay he will push a button which will send the man-carrying capsule 2,000 feet into the air and then parachute him to safety.

The flight of the Liberty Bell 7, like that of Shepard in the capsule called "Freedom 7," is designed to gather information on equipment and pilot behavior as a prelude to a U.S. effort to send a man on an orbital flight around the globe.

If all goes as planned, the capsule and man will be plucked from the sea by helicopters from the aircraft carrier, USS Randolph.

KATHY CORNELIUS SETS PGA RECORD

LEESBURG, Ill. (AP)—The long, dry spell is over today for Kathy Cornelius of Phoenix, Ariz., who breezed to victory in the Tippacaw Open golf tournament Sunday and set a Ladies PGA record to boot.

Miss Cornelius, who went winless on the tour for almost two years, shot a 71-net spectacular compared with earlier rounds of 68 and 65, but good enough for a winning 204.

That was six under par. It also bettered the LPGA 34-hole record of 207 turned in by Betty Rawls in 1959, and yielded $897.50 for Miss Cornelius in the $6,000 tourney.

MCCLOUTOCK FUNERAL WILL BE WEDNESDAY
BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Oliver A. McClootock, owner of the Illinois Hotel in Bloomington and the oldest member of the American Hotel Association.

McClootock, 86, died Sunday after a lingering illness. McClootock, a native of Edin, Kan., was part owner of the Windsor-Clifton Hotel and owner of the former Wellington Hotel in Chicago, the Park Hotel in Madison, Wis., and the Kaskaskia Hotel in LaSalle.

Trapped In Cave By Flood

State police said the cave sloped downwards about five miles. Water seeping through sinkholes on the surface caused it to fill frequently during rains. Police said the currents rip through the underground stream at a dangerous speed.

Showers dumped up to two inches of rain on the area.

The youths are graduate students at Indiana University and belong to an exploring club at Bloomington, Ind. Friends said the youths had splunked for six years and were "as experienced as anybody," although this was their first venture into this particular cave. They had a small quantity of candy for food.

Two companions, Bill Birkey, 24, a university student from Fort Collins, Colo., and Allan Lipscomb, 16, a Bloomington, Ind., high school student, were above ground when the rains started. They escaped.

'Not The Hero Type' Says Gus Grissom

has allowed himself to be jolted, jerked, spun, shaken, crushed, chilled and roasted.

To prepare his genius-level mind (IQ somewhere between 135 and 147) he boned up on physics, electronics, astronomy, navigation, aerodynamics and propulsion.

Grissom, born April 3, 1926, in Mitchell, Ind., still calls Indiana home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis D. Grissom, live in Mitchell, where Gus attended primary and high schools.

In 1944 he entered the Air Force as an aviation cadet but never got as far as flight training. Married to a homelown sweetheart in 1945, he decided a year later to study mechanical engineering at Purdue University.

After graduation in 1950, Grissom failed to find the right job and re-entered the Air Force. He won his wings in 1951.

He and Betty live in simple fashion, devoting much of their time to their sons, Scott, 11, and Mark, 7. Hunting and fishing are Grissom's favorite hobbies. He is a member of the United Church of Christ.

POPE'S ENCYCLICAL PROVES NIGHTMARE FOR TRANSLATORS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII's monumental social encyclical "Mater et Magistra" was a translator's nightmare for the Vatican's Latin scholars.

Their problem: how to put the technical words of 1961 into ancient Latin, the official language of the Roman Catholic Church.

How, for instance, could they best translate "automation" and "interplanetary space"—unknown when Latin was a living tongue in centuries past?

Automation came out "automatic operations"—automatic operations—and atomic energy "vis atomica."

Radio and television translated into radiophonica et televisifica machina and the chemistry of synthetic "chemica artificial."

The initial conquest of interplanetary space took a more involved and colorful translation: "viae initiae per quas ad sidera ferat"—the beginning ways by which we are carried to the stars.

FORMER GOUCHER HEAD DIES

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—David Allan Robertson, 80, president of Goucher College from 1930 to 1948 died Saturday after a long illness. He was a former director of the American Council on Education and had taught at the University of Chicago for 20 years.

HERSHEY EXECUTIVE DIES

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Lester W. Majer, vice president and secretary of the Hershey Chocolate Corp., died Saturday. Majer, who joined the company 37 years ago, was born in Brooklyn.

How To Get On TV Show

NEW YORK (AP)—Critics may deplore and sociologists analyze TV's quiz and game shows, but most fans have only one question when they visit the TV capitals of New York and Hollywood: How do you get on a show?

Here's the answer: The field is wide open. There are 20 game-quiz TV shows. Some are strictly variations of games played in parlors in olden days before TV—and you can win prizes even if you haven't enough talent to tie your shoelaces ("Video Village"). Some are pseudo-cerebral, requiring a degree of brain work ("Concentration").

And others seem to be designed for hardluck characters who would break a tooth biting whipped cream ("Queen for a Day") or who have strange and bizarre occupations or claims to fame ("What's My Line?," "The Groucho Show").

Since the great scandal, operators of games and quizzes have been extremely sensitive. In a way this has worked to the advantage of dreamers who want to win their way to riches and glory. To show that everything is on the up-and-up, and that no amount of pull can get you on, most of the shows insist on picking contestants from the audience.

This is true, for instance, of "The Price Is Right," biggest NBC gets requests for 60,000 tickets each month for the daily daytime telecast and the night show, hosted by amiable Bill Cullen.

Ticket holders are given cards to fill out when entering the studio. While the show is on staff members call the cards for lucky candidates. Home town, birthplace and occupation have something to do with choice since the producer likes to get variety in background.

In shows like "What's My Line?" and "To Tell the Truth," being in the audience has nothing to do with getting on. The non-panelists are ferreted out by staff people.

The kind of people sought vary according to the general pattern of the show. You wouldn't be likely to see one of Jack Bailey's "Queen for a Day" potentials trying to exchange patters with Hugh Downs on "Concentration."

"Queen" contestants are picked from the audience. They fill in cards stating their big wish and telling something about themselves. About 21 are selected for quick interviews, and then four finally are picked. The Bailey show travels, so it could practically come to your doorstep.

"Concentration" is a different kettle of fish. You apply, just as there's a quiz, just to see if you can solve a picture and word puzzle. And then there are personal interviews.

What factor decides whether you'll make it on any of these shows? Well, some of them like to get expectant mothers, so expectant there's an element of suspense. Others go for people of foreign birth, but not with heavy accents. Unless it is British. Off-beat occupations have a particular lure.

It helps if you're attractive. "not good-looking, but looking good, since we don't want beauty queens and matinee idols."

You also have to be an outgoing type, unlikely to clam up in front of the camera.

If you want to try, the next time you're bound for New York or Hollywood, write the networks for tickets. Write long in advance.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market lapsed into sluggish irregularity early this afternoon. Trading was moderate.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was unchanged at 245.50 with industrials up .20, rails off .30 and utilities up .10.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional, some going to a point or so.

Most steels showed a tendency to ease. Motors showed scant change. Rails were off. Aircraft-missiles showed a slight upside tendency as expectations continued of a defense buildup because of the Berlin crisis.

A 4-point early spurt by Hono Oil was a feature but the stock halved its gain later.

Among the rebounding electronics, Litton Industries was about the best, adding more than 3.

DuPont backed away from its Friday recovering, losing more than a point. American Telephone was around a point higher. Small gains were made by Union Carbide, U.S. Steel, General Electric and General Motors.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .16 at 690.79. Prices on the American Stock Exchange worked generally higher in moderate trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed and U.S. government bonds showed scant change in slow dealing.

DETROIT NEWSMAN DIES

DETROIT (AP)—James A. Murphy, 26, a newsman in the Detroit bureau of The Associated Press since 1947, died Saturday of cancer. He was born in Zanesville, Ohio.

ULLIN MBAN KILLED

ULLIN, Ill. (AP) Frank Summers, about 70, was killed today when struck by a car as he walked along a road near his home in Ullin.

The Nile River basin covers 1.1 million square miles or about one-tenth of Africa, according to Encyclopedia Britannica.

TRY A WANT AD

BULLETIN

ATLANTA (AP)—Ty Cobb, the immortal Georgia Peach of baseball fame, died today.

The 74-year-old former Detroit Tiger star died in Emory University hospital where he had been a patient several times the past two years.

He had undergone treatment for diabetes, bursitis and a back injury sustained in a hunting accident in Idaho.

He had been in the hospital this time since June 5.

Thyus Raymond Cobb was born Dec. 18, 1886, near Royston, in Northeast Georgia. After playing sandlot ball in his hometown, Cobb made his professional debut at 17 with Augusta, Ga., in the South Atlantic League.

WHEAT STRONG WITH GOOD DEMAND

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures were in good demand and prices turned strong today on the Board of Trade but the market otherwise was mostly mixed.

Brokers ascribed the support to wheat to mail and export interest. Dealers said that although overseas business was light over the weekend the trade expects a good volume to develop within the next several days.

The government was understood to have asked flour mills to submit bids on a million sacks of flour to be used for relief abroad.

Selling pressure developed from time to time in July deliveries on which trading expires Thursday. There was outright liquidation of that account in both rye and soybeans.

Wheat was 1-1/4 cents a bushel higher, July 1914; corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, July 1914; oats 1/4 higher to 1/2 lower, July 724; rye 1 cent lower to 1 cent higher, July 73-74; soybeans 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, July 25-26.

Wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel higher at the close, July 1914; corn 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher, July 1914; oats 1 cent higher to 1 1/2 lower, July 73-74; rye 1/2 lower to 2 cents higher, July 1914; soybeans 2 1/2 cents a bushel lower to 1/2 higher, July 25-26.

FAVOR RUSSIANS TO WIN WORLD FENCING TITLES IN ITALY

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Some 100 fencers from 26 nations battle here starting today in the world fencing championship—regarded as the return match for the Rome Olympic Games.

All the winners and their strongest opponents in the 1960 games will be among the entries in the men's and women's competition, which continues through July 30.

Russia is a favorite to win the biggest share of titles, as was the case in the Olympics.

HOG MARKET

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—(USDA)—Interior Illinois hog prices (State-Federal): Receipts 16,000; moderately active, hogs steady to 25 higher; 1-3 grades 200-240 lbs 16.75-17.50; extreme top 17.50; 1-3 grades 240-270 lbs 16.00-16.75; sows largely steady at 12.00-15.00.

POTATO MARKET

CHICAGO (AP)USDA)—Potatoes arrivals 285; on track 416; total U.S. shipments for Friday 515; Saturday 286; Sunday 71; supplies moderate; demand slow; market slightly weaker; carlot track sales: California long white 3.40-3.65, fair appearance 2.80-3.25; Texas round reds 4.00-4.10.

fendants guilty; otherwise, there was no income.

When lawmakers abolished this system in 1959 and put JPs on salary, they could not include JPs subject to re-election this November in the 17 commission counties. Nor could they blanket in police magistrates up for re-election in 1963.

Moreover, the 1959 legislation left open the question about how the system would work. The number of JPs had been cut from more than 3,000 to less than 1,000. So the legislature this year laid down these additional rules:

Salaries must be uniform with in a county, whether at the low, est $600 level or the highest $12,000 annual rate.

JPs must report to the state court administrator each month. County boards may prescribe court rooms and standards of dignity. They may set office hours for the conduct of JP business.

The legislature empowered the administrator to assign work loads. Downstate, the county judges were given the same power.

The system isn't old enough to be judged completely. Experts say the picture is confused.

The first reports of the JPs to the state court administrator start rolling in next month but there's a feeling that some JPs will overlook this procedure.

SUSPENSE

A Short Story

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Ralph Dylong

Whenever one spoke of Moses Murdock, the term "tycoon" was applied automatically, even though the word has been worked to death. Moses Murdock was a colossus.

His business enterprises didn't stop with the boundaries of the nation, but kept right on going around the world. And he wasn't only a business man. He was sought after by colleges, not only for commencement addresses to inspire young men to follow in his footsteps, but to explain the intricacies of economics and even finance. His philanthropic activities required a staff of trained specialists. He'd made revolutionary inventions. And even the Russians printed what he said, in spite of the fact that Moses Murdock was a hated capitalist.

He was above partisan politics, but Congressmen and governors asked his advice. Even members of the Cabinet sought him out, because Moses Murdock had connections in many lands and sometimes knew as much about some nations as the career boys of the State Department.

When Moses Murdock died, laying not a few doubts that he was mortal, the nation went into mourning. Hardly had the funeral ended when a publisher signed up Orestes M. Werton, author of two best sellers, to do a full dress biography of the Great American Moses Murdock.

Celeste Murdock, the widow, received the graying Mr. Werton in her summer home in New Hampshire.

"First," said the writer, "I'd like to get a mental picture of the real Moses Murdock, the man the public never knew."

"There was no such man," said the widow. "Moses Murdock was great, even when he was taking his morning shower."

Mr. Werton pondered on how she might have knowledge of this, but he did not pursue the idea. Instead he said, "Then let me get better acquainted with him, and his personal habits. His hobbies, and so on."

"Being a great man was his hobby," said Mrs. Murdock in a tone that implied that she had said this many times because it was expected of her. She escorted Werton through the house, showing off his many art treasures, and sentimental keepsakes.

The tour ended in the great man's study, a room of some magnitude with mahogany furniture, wall to wall book cases, a vault for valuable papers and an expensive bar still stocked with liquors.

"This room was his," she said, using the capital H.

Werton's eyes roamed the bookshelves, possibly looking for copies of his own works. Then Werton realized that an ephemeral best seller, such as he, could never hope to hold its own in such company. These volumes were the works of Shakespeare, Milton, Poe, Mark Twain, and other literary greats. The volumes were in expensive bindings.

"Moses loved the classics," said Mrs. Murdock quietly. "He was always saying: 'Read with the learned; talk with the vulgar.'"

"I don't think he really meant it," said Werton. "Think of the great men he talked with. He reached out and took a classic from the shelf. He opened it. The binding was still walked over to them. He picked up one, found the binding loose and there were no uncut pages. Many pages were dog-eared.

Read with the learned; talk with the vulgar.

Mrs. Murdock stopped before the sad-eyed widow. She flared.

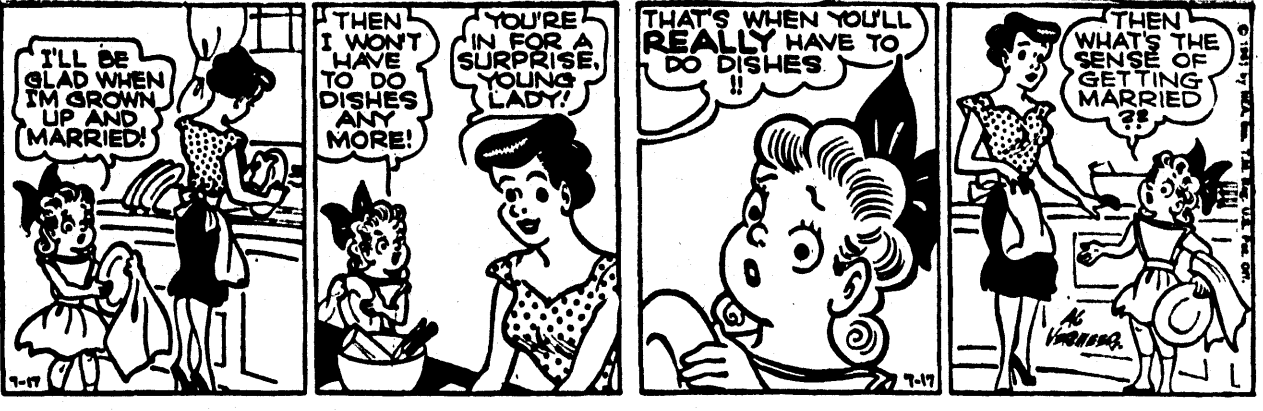

"All right, so he read westerns and murder mysteries," she exclaimed. "I told him, he'd be found out some day!"

As she left the room, Werton shook his head. "Read with the learned, talk with the vulgar," he repeated. "Well, I guess you never can tell what a man's opinion will be."

WEATHER WATCHER'S WORKS—A new weather satellite, Tiros III, is streaking around the earth every 100 minutes, about 425 to 450 miles high. Two TV cameras aboard the 285-pound satellite have already sent back valuable pictures of cloud formations. It is hoped that Tiros III will provide new information on hurricanes during the coming season. Major components of the satellite are shown being inspected, above, before being assembled and launched. Tiros I, launched April 1, 1960, took 22,950 pictures in its 78-day life. Tiros II, launched Nov. 23, 1960, is still operating.

SENT CENTS—Holding a two-yard string of pennies taped together, San Antonio, Texas, court clerk Roy Keitt looks sad. He has reasons too. The 100-penny payment of a parking fine arrived with 53 cents postage due, for one reason; for another, it took 70 minutes to remove pennies from the tape.

WEATHER WATCHER'S WORKS—A new weather satellite, Tiros III, is streaking around the earth every 100 minutes, about 425 to 450 miles high. Two TV cameras aboard the 285-pound satellite have already sent back valuable pictures of cloud formations. It is hoped that Tiros III will provide new information on hurricanes during the coming season. Major components of the satellite are shown being inspected, above, before being assembled and launched. Tiros I, launched April 1, 1960, took 22,950 pictures in its 78-day life. Tiros II, launched Nov. 23, 1960, is still operating.

SENT CENTS—Holding a two-yard string of pennies taped together, San Antonio, Texas, court clerk Roy Keitt looks sad. He has reasons too. The 100-penny payment of a parking fine arrived with 53 cents postage due, for one reason; for another, it took 70 minutes to remove pennies from the tape.

FHA Delegate

DORIS DEGROOT

Doris DeGroot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alpha DeGroot of Jacksonville, has been selected by the Jacksonville Chapter of Future Homemakers of America as a delegate to the Annual State Leadership Conference to be held July 24 through July 28 at East Bay Camp, Lake Bloomington, Bloomington, Ill.

Doris is a sophomore at Jacksonville high school and is public relations officer of her FHA Chapter. Doris' special responsibility at the 1961 conference will include being in presentation at FHA camp called "Salute to the Stars and Stripes. The Future Homemakers of America is a national organization of students studying home-making in junior and senior high schools. The Illinois Association has a membership of 28,460 members in 590 chapters. At least 590 delegates will attend the conference.

The five day conference, planned and carried out by the teenagers themselves, will give chapter delegates opportunity to exchange ideas with FHAers from other Illinois chapters. The theme for the conference, "Miss FHA—America" is planned to help delegates further develop leadership abilities and to find ways of furthering local chapter development.

Fears Spending, Foreign Policy Weakening U.S.
CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's foreign policy and increased federal spending, says Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., may make the United States unable to meet the demands of a cold or hot war.

"We have already lost Cuba, 90 miles from our shores, to the Communists," Capehart said in a speech in Chicago Sunday night. "For all practical purposes, we have lost Laos and we now are seriously threatened in Berlin."

"Now it is proposed that our vast program of foreign aid be set up on the basis of definite commitments over a five-year period. If we keep it up, nobody knows whether our economy can carry the load to support an effective cold war or win a hot one."

Capehart, who addressed the American Hellenic Educational Progressive Association, was presented with a man of the year award for his "service to the Greek people around the world."

Attorney Winks Enlists In AF With Capt. Rank
Attorney Guy Winks of this city recently re-enlisted in the U.S. Air Force and is training at Lackland A. F. B., San Antonio, Texas for work he will do in the Judge Advocate General's department at Lowry Field, Denver, Colo.

The final hurdle for the popular local attorney, formerly with the Thomson and Thomson law firm here since 1953, was a physical exam which he passed on Friday.

Winks enters military service with the rank of Captain and of the three branches, administrative, civil and military justice, he expects to be classified in the latter. After his instruction and return to the city for a 30 day leave with his family at 513 Sandusky street Capt. Winks and children will move to Denver. The Winks children are, a son Nicky, 13; twin girls, Susan and Marian, age six and youngest daughter, Andrea, age four.

THIEVES CART OFF $2 MILLION WORTH OF PICTURES
SAINT TROPEZ, France (AP)—Thieves stole 57 Impressionist paintings valued at nearly $2 million from a museum here Sunday and carted them off by truck. It was France's biggest art robbery since the "Mona Lisa" was stolen in 1911.

The haul included masterpieces by Maurice Utrillo, Henri Matisse, Raoul Dufy and Pierre Bonnard. It was the sixth art robbery on the Riviera in the past 18 months.

The paintings stolen from the Annouciade Museum of Modern Art were part of a collection of French Impressionist Georges Grammont donated in 1955 to the town of Saint Tropez, his favorite vacation spot.

The stolen works, insured against fire but not theft, included "Woman at the Window" and "The Gypsy" by Matisse, "The Jetty at Honfleur" by Dufy and "Saint Tropez Harbor" by Bonnard.

The thieves left behind 43 paintings and several sculptures worth an estimated $1 million.

URGE NIXON TO SEEK CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR POST
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been called "the most qualified man in our state" to be governor by heads of the Republican State Central Committee.

The 75-member executive committee urged Nixon to run for the post in a resolution approved Saturday.

In an address, Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., expressed optimism about the GOP's chances in the 1962 elections and said California Republicans in Congress, meeting Friday in Washington, agreed that Nixon must decide for himself whether to run for governor.

Meanwhile, Kentucky's GOP Sen. Thurston B. Morton said in Louisville Sunday that he has told Nixon the Republicans will have to win the California governorship if the former vice president is to remain a potential presidential candidate for 1964 or 1968.
